

IAN A NELSON

Contact:

707.321.3990
iananelson.film@gmail.com
www.iananelson.com

Skills

Directing for documentary film production.
Conducting interviews.
Proficient at operating cinema camera systems.
Editing videos on Adobe Premiere Pro CC.
Certified sUAS remote pilot.
Certified Scuba diver.
Fluent in Italian.

Education

Academy of Art University, School of Motion Pictures & Television
San Francisco, CA — BFA 2012

University of Arizona Tucson, AZ — 2007-2009

PROFILE

Ian A Nelson is a Director, Cinematographer, and Editor. Creating educational documentaries which inspire viewers to respect, appreciate, and take action to protect and preserve wildlife and their habitats.

EXPERIENCE

Western Monarch Butterflies: Back From the Brink — 2023

A short teaser self-produced for a feature film.

Cultural Burning at Pepperwood — 2022

A short video produced by Pepperwood Preserve.

Pepperwood: Rising From the Ashes — 2021

A feature film produced by Coriolis Films.

The Forest Birds of Kauai: Mosquito Transmitted Diseases — 2021

A short video co-produced by American Bird Conservancy and Coriolis Films.

The Forest Birds of Kauai: A Declining Population — 2020

A short video co-produced by American Bird Conservancy and Coriolis Films.

Exploring the Pacific Northwest — 2019

A feature film in association with Coriolis Films.

Saving Kauai's Seabirds — 2019

A feature film produced by Coriolis Films.

Saving Western Burrowing Owls — 2019

A short film produced by Coriolis Films.

Artificial Burrows: Technology for Conservation — 2017

A short video produced by American Bird Conservancy.

Keeping Hawaii Wild — 2017

A short video produced by American Bird Conservancy.

A Seabird's Story — 2016

A short video produced by American Bird Conservancy.

First Flight: Hawaiian Petrels Journey to Safety — 2015

A short video produced by American Bird Conservancy.

Northern Elephant Seals — 2014

A self-produced short documentary.

The Great Blue Herons of Stow Lake — 2013

A short video produced by Bay Nature Institute.